Board Industry Experience

Question

Does the company report on the number and names of the board members with relevant work experience in its sector according to GICS Level 1 sector classification (excluding executive members and employee representatives)?

Rationale

Corporate boards are tasked with monitoring companies' management teams on behalf of those companies' shareholders and other stakeholders. Boards are the direct representatives of these stakeholders and form one of the most important components of corporate governance. It is therefore vital that the board members selected have the right experience and skills, are sufficiently independent and act in the best interests of all stakeholders. This question focuses on industry and audit experience, two of the most important skill sets for setting strategies and effectively monitoring and evaluating management's performance.

Key Definitions

Board industry experience: The member must have practical work experience in the industry (based on GICS Level 11 classification below). This experience can be acquired by way of functions in management, academia, consulting, or research. "Practical work experience" in the industry refers to experience attained in employee or executive roles. Having been on another company's board in the same industry does not qualify as relevant experience.

GICS Level 1 sectors:

- Energy
- Materials
- Industrials
- Consumer Discretionary
- Consumer Staples
- Healthcare
- Financials
- Information Technology
- Communication Services
- Utilities
- Real Estate

Executives and Employee Representatives: Board members who are executives or elected as employee representatives are not included.

Data Requirements

Provide information on board members that are currently (at the time the assessment is performed) in the board. This means that if the board member has resigned from the board (for example in March 2020) and the assessment in performed in May 2020, do not include them as part of the board.

Include board member who has announced her/his resignation but has not yet resigned (at the time the assessment is performed) as part of the board. She/he should not be included if she/he has already resigned at the time the assessment is performed.

A board nominee should not be included as a board member unless she/he has already been elected at the time of the assessment. (A nominee should only be included if she/he sits for re-election, not if she/he's a nominee for a first mandate).

In this question, we expect disclosure on the number of independent or non-executive members of the board of directors with industry experience and/or disclosure on the industry experience of each individual board member.

The question asks for experience in management, consulting, academia, government or research. Having been on another company's board in the same industry does not qualify as relevant management experience.

Two-tier board structures: This question should only include the supervisory board and not the management board.

Disclosure Requirements

Listed companies and/or publicly owned companies are required to provide links to public reports or corporate websites.

Non-listed companies are required to provide the following evidence, depending on the type of company:

- Family-owned companies and privately owned companies are required to provide public reports, corporate websites, or internal documents.
- Cooperatives are required to provide public reports, corporate websites, or internal documents.
- State-owned companies are required to report on their corporate governance in the public domain as their key stakeholder is the general public.

For companies in the FBN, TCD and IDD industries: If your company has very diversified operations or significant investments into businesses in industries other than the one used for the purpose of this assessment, board experience from another relevant industry can be accepted if an explanation is provided that clearly indicates the other GICS sector and how it relates to the company.

Please note: Answers in the form of 'Confidential additional comments' for any type of non-listed company will not be accepted.
