Environmental Policy

Question

Does the company have a group-wide environmental policy and is it available publicly?

Rationale

Environmental Management System (EMS) and related public policies are an important indicator of a company's preparedness and commitment to measure and reduce the environmental impact of its operations. Companies that have adopted an environmental policy as a management tool are more likely to improve their environmental performance in a structured and systematic way.

This question identifies the critical elements of Environmental Management System (EMS) as well as commitments that are defined in the group-wide, public environmental policy.

Key Definitions

Environmental Management System (EMS): Management of an organization's environmental programs in a comprehensive, systematic, planned and documented manner. It includes the organizational structure, planning and resources to develop them, and the procedure for the implementation and management of the company's policy on environmental management.

Environmental Policy: Group-wide, public policy that describes the intentions and directions related to environmental impacts and performance defined by top management.

Commitment and oversight: A statement that the commitment/policy is approved, overseen, reviewed, or adopted by the board of directors or executive management. A policy can also be signed by the respective director.
