Supply Chain Transparency & Reporting

Question

Which aspects of your supply chain management approach does your company publicly report on (on a consolidated basis)?

Rationale

Companies not only outsource production, services and business processes but responsibilities, risks and opportunities as well. On one hand, outsourcing generally tends to increase a company's flexibility, but on the other hand, supply chain risks might become less apparent, new dependencies may arise, and the identification, monitoring and management of risks and opportunities in the supply chain may become more difficult.

To ensure credibility and trust amongst investors as well as other stakeholders, it is crucial that companies transparentlyreporton processes as well as results connected to their supply chains. This question seeks to assess the extent to which companies are publicly reporting on aspects regarding supplier risk and performance.

Additional Question Guidance & Information Display

Key Definitions

This question aims to assess the transparency of the company's supply chain reporting. Therefore, all the information presented here must be available in the public domain, and preferably referenced through a web link.

- Spend analysis: This refers to a full assessment of the supply chain, including information on each supplier. A typical spend analysis would include number of suppliers, category type, spend value and geographic spread. Please bear in mind that this analysis refers to the structure of the supply chain as a whole and does not specifically focus on environmental, social and governance (ESG) assessments of the supply chain.
- Disclosure of risk awareness: This refers to disclosures around the definition and identification of critical tier-1 and non-tier 1 suppliers.
- Disclosure of risk assessment and corrective actions: This refers to measures taken to identify and mitigate identified risks, such as the approach to supplier assessments, monitoring and corrective action plans.

- Examples of KPIs relating to supply chain management: These include (but are not limited to): percentage of assessed suppliers, percentage of audited suppliers, KPIs related to the outcome of capacity-building activities, percentage of suppliers with contract clauses, percentage of suppliers with ISO14001 (or similar), percentage of procurement spent with preferred suppliers (according to sustainability criteria), number of suppliers rejected for sustainability reasons, scope 3 missions, suppliers' water use, percentage of procurement staffed trained on sustainability aspects. For each KPI reported, we also request details of targets and progress made towards meeting those targets.

Data Requirements

- The KPI must be quantitative and disclosed in the public domain
- Each KPI should have a target
- Each target should have a target year
- Progress on the target should be publicly disclosed
