Key Definitions

Living wage: Minimum pay received for the basic number of working hours and required to ensure coverage of workers and their families' basic needs. The living wage consists of the base salary and excludes bonuses and overtime (Fair Wage Network).

For the purpose of this question, the living wage methodology should include at least the following three basic expenses (all): food, housing and clothing. Additional expenses include, but are not limited to, health, transportation, personal care Items, childcare and education.

Minimum wage: The minimum amount of remuneration that an employer is required to pay wage earners for the work performed during a given period, which cannot be reduced by collective agreement or an individual contract (International Labour Organization)

This definition refers to the binding nature of minimum wages, regardless of the method of fixing them. Minimum wages can be set by statute, decision of a competent authority, a wage board, a wage council, or by industrial or labour courts or tribunals. Minimum wages can also be set by giving the force of law to provisions of collective agreements. Following this definition, minimum wages exist in more than 90 per cent of the International Labour Organisation's (ILO) member States. (International Labour Organization)

Critical suppliers: suppliers whose goods, materials, services (including intellectual property (IP) / patents) have a significant impact on the competitive advantage, market success or survival of the company. Critical suppliers include high-volume suppliers, suppliers of critical components and non-substitutable suppliers.

Critical non-tier 1 suppliers: refers to suppliers that are considered critical (see definition above), and provide their products and services to the supplier at the next level in the chain (tier-2 suppliers and higher).

Tier 1 suppliers: refers to suppliers that directly supply goods, materials or services (including intellectual property (IP) / patents) to the company.

Tier 2 and lower: provide their products and services to the supplier at the next level in the chain (E.g. Tier-2 supplies to Tier-1).
