Key Definitions

Living wage: Minimum pay received for the basic number of working hours and required to ensure coverage of workers and their families' basic needs. The living wage consists of the base salary and excludes bonuses and overtime (Fair Wage Network).

For the purpose of this question, the living wage methodology should include at least the following three basic expenses (all): food, housing and clothing. Additional expenses include but are not limited to health, transportation, personal care items, childcare and education.

Minimum wage: The minimum amount of remuneration that an employer is required to pay all wage earners for the work performed during a given period, which cannot be reduced by a collective agreement or an individual contract (International Labour Organization).

This definition refers to the binding nature of minimum wages, regardless of the method of fixing them. Minimum wages can be set by statute, a decision of a competent authority, a wage board, a wage council, or by industrial or labour courts or tribunals. Minimum wages can also be set by giving the force of law to provisions of collective agreements. Following this definition, minimum wages exist in more than 90 per cent of the International Labour Organisation's (ILO) member States. (International Labour Organization).

Please note that in this question, we are specifically assessing whether companies have a commitment to assess whether they pay a living wage, not the minimum wage. Evidence of adhering to the minimum wage will not be accepted in this question.

“We have a public commitment to assess whether our employees/contractors/suppliers/franchisees are paid a living wage”. By “assess” active calculations using a living wage methodology to determine whether your employees, contractors etc. are paid a living wage.

A commitment to pay these groups a living wage is the following step after conducting the living wage assessment to close the gap in those countries where the pay is not at the living wage and pay a living wage to those groups.

Data Requirements

Please provide evidence that your commitment is available in your public reporting or on your corporate website. Please note to receive credit for a public commitment your company needs to have made the commitment to one or more groups (employees of own operations/suppliers/contractors/franchisees).

If your commitment is not yet publicly available, please tick the third box “We have made a commitment to assess whether our employees/contractors/suppliers/franchisees are paid a living wage which is not yet public” and attach supporting evidence. Please note options ticked without a document providing evidence will not be accepted.

If your company has a commitment to assess whether a group is paid a living wage AND a commitment to pay a group a living wage, please mark the first option, a commitment to pay a living wage.

Please note: If you have less than 100 employees or no employees in your organization, then please mark the question as 'Not applicable'.
