CANADA BREAD COMPANY, LIMITED
MANAGEMENT INFORMATION CIRCULAR

VOTING INFORMATION

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

This Management Information Circular is furnished in connection with the solicitation by management of Canada Bread Company, Limited ("Canada Bread" or the "Corporation") of proxies to be used at the Annual and Special Meeting of Shareholders of the Corporation (the "Meeting"), to be held at the Albany Club, 91 King Street East, Toronto, Ontario on Thursday, May 6, 2010, at 2:30 p.m. (Toronto time) for the purposes set forth in the attached Notice of Meeting. The costs of such solicitation will be borne by the Corporation. It is planned that the solicitation will be primarily by mail, but proxies may also be solicited by telephone, in writing, by email, by fax, by other electronic means or in person by employees of the Corporation or by agents of the Corporation at a nominal and customary cost.

APPOINTMENT AND REVOCATION OF PROXIES

The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy are directors of the Corporation. A shareholder desiring to appoint some other person or company, who need not be a shareholder of the Corporation, to represent the shareholder at the Meeting may do so either by inserting such person's name in the blank space provided in the form of proxy or by completing another proper form of proxy and, in either case, delivering the completed proxy to the Secretary of the Corporation, c/o Computershare Investor Services Inc., 100 University Avenue, 9th Floor, Toronto, Ontario M5J 2Y1, for receipt on or before 4:30 p.m. on the last business day preceding the day of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof at which the proxy is to be used, or delivering it to the Chairman of the Meeting on the day of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof prior to the time of voting. A proxy should be executed by the shareholder or his attorney duly authorized in writing or, if the shareholder is a corporation, by an officer or attorney thereof duly authorized.

In addition to any other manner permitted by law, a proxy may be revoked before it is exercised by depositing an instrument in writing executed in the same manner as a proxy with the Secretary of the Corporation at the address shown above at any time up to and including the last business day preceding the day of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof at which the proxy is to be used or with the Chairman of the Meeting on the day of such Meeting or any adjournment thereof and upon either of such deposits the proxy is revoked.

VOTING OF PROXIES

A proxy in the form enclosed with the Notice of Meeting confers discretionary authority with respect to amendments or variations to the matters identified in the Notice of Meeting or other matters that may properly come before the Meeting. Management of the Corporation is not aware of any amendments, variations or other matters that are to be presented for action at the Meeting.

Shares represented by proxies properly executed in favour of the persons whose names are printed therein will be voted for or against or withheld from voting in accordance with the choices specified in the executed proxy on any ballot that may be called for, but if no choice is specified, such shares will be voted:

(i) FOR the election as directors of the Corporation of each of the persons listed as nominees under the heading "Election of Directors" below as directors;

(ii) FOR the appointment of KPMG LLP, Chartered Accountants, as auditors of the Corporation and authorizing the directors to fix their remuneration;

(iii) FOR the approval of the special resolution amending the articles of incorporation changing the French version of the Corporation's name from Pain Canada Compagnie, Limitée to Boulangerie Canada Bread, Limitée; and

(iv) FOR or AGAINST such actions as the nominee thinks fit with respect to any other matter that may properly come before the Meeting, including any amendments or variations to the matters identified in the Notice of Meeting.

VOTING SECURITIES AND PRINCIPAL HOLDERS THEREOF

As at March 18, 2010, the Corporation had 25,416,812 voting common shares ("Common Shares") outstanding. Each Common Share carries the right to one vote at the Meeting. To the knowledge of the directors and executive officers of the Corporation, the only person who beneficially owns directly or indirectly or exercises control or direction over ten percent (10%) or more of the votes attaching to the Common Shares is Maple Leaf Foods Inc. ("Maple Leaf Foods", "Maple Leaf" or "MLF"), which holds directly or indirectly 22,818,515 Common Shares representing approximately 89.8% of the issued and outstanding Common Shares. The registered office of Maple Leaf Foods is Suite 1500, 30 St. Clair Avenue West, Toronto, Ontario M4V 3A2.

The directors have fixed the close of business on April 1, 2010, as the record date for the purposes of determining shareholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Meeting. Accordingly, only persons who are holders of Common Shares of record at the close of business on April 1, 2010, are entitled to vote at the Meeting.

NON-REGISTERED SHAREHOLDERS/BENEFICIAL OWNERS

Most shareholders are "beneficial owners'' who are non-registered shareholders. The Common Shares of the Corporation held by them are registered in the name of an intermediary, such as a securities broker, financial institution, trustee, custodian or other nominee who holds the shares on their behalf, or in the name of a clearing agency in which the intermediary is a participant (such as CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc.). Intermediaries have obligations to forward meeting materials to the non-registered holders, unless otherwise instructed by the holder (and as required by regulation in some cases, despite such instructions).

Non-registered holders should follow the directions of their intermediaries with respect to the procedures to be followed for voting. Generally, intermediaries will provide non-registered holders with either: (a) a voting instruction form for completion and execution by the non-registered holder, or enabling voting by alternate means such as telephone or Internet, or (b) a proxy form, executed by the intermediary and restricted to the number of shares owned by the non-registered holder, but otherwise uncompleted. These procedures are designed to permit the non-registered holders to direct the voting of the Common Shares of the Corporation which they beneficially own.

These security-holder materials are being sent to both registered and non-registered shareholders of the Corporation. If you are a non-registered shareholder and these materials were sent directly to you, your name and address and information about your holdings of securities have been obtained in accordance with applicable securities regulatory requirements from the intermediary holding shares on your behalf.

By choosing to send these materials to you directly, Canada Bread Company, Limited (and not the intermediary holding shares on your behalf) has assumed responsibility for (i) delivering these materials to you, and (ii) executing your proper voting instructions. Please return your voting instructions as specified in the request for voting instructions.

VOTING AT THE MEETING BY BENEFICIAL OWNERS

Only registered shareholders or their duly appointed proxyholders are permitted to vote in person at the Meeting. If a non-registered holder wishes to attend and vote in person at the Meeting, they must insert their own name in the space provided for the appointment of a proxyholder on the voting instruction form or proxy form provided by the intermediary and carefully follow the intermediary's instructions for return of the executed form or other method of response.

INFORMATION REGARDING CERTAIN DIRECTORS

Within ten years preceding the date of this circular:

Mr. Aziz was a director of Doman Industries Limited (2003 and 2004) during the period the company was operating under CCAA protection (granted in 2002) and filed a sanctioned plan of compromise and arrangement (2004). Mr. Aziz was appointed an officer of Atlas Cold Storage Income Trust (2003) when certain officers and directors (not including Mr. Aziz) were the subject of a cease trade order. Mr. Aziz was the Chief Financial Officer of Hollinger Inc. and its subsidiaries from March 2007 to May 2008 and has been the Chief Restructuring Officer of Hollinger Inc. and certain of its subsidiaries since May 2008, which company and certain subsidiaries were granted an initial order under the CCAA on August 1, 2007.

When Mr. Aziz was appointed the Chief Financial Officer of Hollinger Inc. on March 8, 2007, he became subject to a management cease trade order ("MCTO") in respect of Hollinger Inc. which was originally issued on June 1, 2004, by the Ontario Securities Commission and which order remained in place until April 10, 2007, when the MCTO was revoked by the Ontario Securities Commission as a result of Hollinger Inc. filing all documents it was required to file pursuant to Ontario securities laws. Mr. Aziz was subsequently appointed Chief Restructuring Officer of Hollinger Inc. in May 2008, and since that time, the Ontario and Alberta Securities Commissions have issued Permanent Cease Trade Orders against Hollinger Inc., with the consent of that company and approved by the Ontario Superior Court of Justice.

Ms. Everett was Chairman and a director of Tereve Holdings Ltd., a private company which was subject to proceedings under the CCAA in 2005 and subsequently to bankruptcy proceedings under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada) in 2006.

Special Business of the Meeting

AMENDMENT TO THE ARTICLES TO CHANGE THE FRENCH VERSION OF THE CORPORATION'S NAME

The French version of Canada Bread Company, Limited's corporate name is Pain Canada Compagnie, Limitée. The name was adopted in 1997 at the time the Corporation changed its English name to Canada Bread Company, Limited.

The Corporation's current French name is a direct translation of the English version but is not well known and is not associated with the Corporation within the industry. While the Corporation sells products under a number of different brands and trademarks, its corporate identity is attached to its English name and to its corporate identifier, "Canada Bread" for which it has a trademark registration. The Corporation does not have a French version of its corporate trademark.

Until the current year, use of the French name has been limited since the Corporation operated in Quebec through a separate legal entity, its subsidiary Multi-Marques Inc. Effective in early 2010, in an effort to simplify its administration and operations in the Fresh Bakery division, a number of subsidiaries were combined into Canada Bread Company, Limited. As a consequence, use of the French version of the Corporation's name is expected to increase, and the lack of recognition will be more critical and disadvantageous to the Corporation's business relations with customers, consumers and suppliers.

Following an assessment of the regulations and other legal requirements for corporate names and French versions of corporate names, the Corporation proposes that its articles be amended to change the French name of the Corporation to Boulangerie Canada Bread, Limitée. In addition to meeting applicable legal requirements, the proposed name distinguishes the Corporation in a clear and unmistakable manner.

To become effective, this special resolution must be passed by at least two-thirds (that is, 66 ⅔%) of the votes cast in respect of the special resolution at the meeting by holders of Common Shares.

The text of the special resolution to be considered at the meeting is attached as Appendix A. The proposed amendment to the articles changing the French name of the Corporation will become effective upon the filing of Articles of Amendment reflecting the amendment pursuant to the Business Corporations Act (Ontario). Until they become effective, this special resolution can be revoked and rescinded by the Board without further action by the shareholders. The Board recommends that the shareholders vote in favour of this resolution. The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy (unless otherwise instructed) intend to vote in favour of the special resolution.

If approved, this action does not give rise to a right of dissent under section 185 of the Business Corporations Act (Ontario).

DIRECTOR AND EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

COMPENSATION OF DIRECTORS

Directors of the Corporation received remuneration for their services during the 2009 financial year in an aggregate amount of $275,100. Retainers for Board and committee service are paid annually in advance. These retainers are paid following election of the directors at each annual meeting and are in respect of service on the Board for the period commencing then and ending on the date of the next annual meeting. The 2009 compensation schedule was as follows:

Director's Retainer	$ 70,000
Committee Retainer	$ 1,500
Chairman, Governance Committee Retainer	$ 3,000
Chairman, Audit Committee Retainer	$ 8,000
Fee for attendance in person at Board meeting	$ 1,500
Fee for attendance by teleconference at Board meeting	$ 800
Fee for attendance at committee meeting on same day as a Board meeting	$ 800
Fee for attendance at committee meeting by teleconference	$ 800
Fee for attendance at committee meeting otherwise	$ 1,000

The Governance Committee has recommended that a portion of the annual retainer be used to purchase Common Shares of the Corporation. Directors who are officers of the Corporation or any subsidiary company or of Maple Leaf Foods do not receive fees. Directors are also reimbursed for travel and other out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending Board or committee meetings.

Name	Fees Earned ($)	Share-Based Awards ($)	Option Board Awards ($)	Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compen-sation ($)	Pension Value ($)	All Other Compen-sation ($)	Total ($)
William E. Aziz	94,400						94,400
Sarah A. Everett	88,400						88,400
John F. Petch	92,300						92,300
Total	275,100	–	–	–	–	–	275,100

COMPOSITION OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE

The Governance Committee serves as the Corporation's compensation committee. The Governance Committee is composed of three directors, all of whom are independent within the meaning of applicable securities laws. The Committee consists of John F. Petch (Chairman), William E. Aziz and Sarah A. Everett.

No member is currently the Chief Executive Officer of any publicly listed entity. Each Committee member has experience with executive compensation matters. The Governance Committee supports its independence by meeting in camera at the request of any member but at least once per year.

The Governance Committee meets at least twice a year as required at the call of the Chairman of the Committee. In 2009, the Governance Committee met five (5) times.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Compensation Philosophy

The Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") of the Corporation is also the Chief Operating Officer, Food Group, Maple Leaf Foods Inc., and the Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") of the Corporation is also CFO of Maple Leaf Foods Inc. Compensation decisions regarding the CEO and CFO, in the first instance, are made by the Board of Directors and the Human Resources and Compensation Committee of Maple Leaf Foods Inc. and then reviewed with the Governance Committee of Canada Bread Company, Limited. The CEO's and CFO's compensation is borne partially by Canada Bread Company, Limited and partially by Maple Leaf Foods Inc. through a shared services agreement. In all cases, the compensation systems and philosophy for the two companies are coordinated and allow for the free movement of executives and staff between them.

The Corporation has four main components to its compensation for senior executives: base salary, annual bonus, participation in long-term equity-based plans and benefits in kind or perquisites. The first three of these components have as their objectives to attract, motivate and retain the Named Executive Officers ("NEOs").

The Corporation's philosophy is that fixed compensation (base salary) be initially benchmarked to the median for a market peer group, with an opportunity for above-median (up to the 75th percentile) salaries for sustained excellent performance. Similarly, the Corporation offers median-variable or at-risk compensation linked to performance (bonuses). Superior performance will lead to above-market bonuses. A similar philosophy applies to long-term equity-based incentives. Regarding benefits and perquisites, the Corporation's philosophy is to reward employees with competitive base pay plus a significant amount of variable compensation, based on performance. As such, other incentives that cannot be converted to variable compensation are minimized. For example, while the Corporation provides the option of a company car or a car allowance, the value of the car is relatively low, but the Corporation's compensation packages in total, including this benefit, are designed to be competitive and attract executives who support the philosophy of performance-driven compensation. In all cases, the Governance Committee (in this Executive Compensation section referred to as the "Committee") uses benchmark data solely as a guideline or point of reference and not as a substitute for the judgment of the Committee.

The Corporation has adopted a comprehensive and rigorous performance evaluation methodology for all salaried employees, upon which all compensation matters are based. The Corporation's compensation philosophy is to provide competitive compensation which targets the competitive median and above for base salary and incentive levels for its senior executives, while recognizing and rewarding top performers above the competitive median through variable or at-risk compensation which reflects the performance / sustained contribution of each executive.

Compensation Elements

The Corporation's executive compensation program is comprised of fixed and variable components. The variable components include equity and non-equity incentive plans. Each compensation component has a different function, but all elements work in concert to maximize company and individual performance by establishing specific, competitive operational and financial goals and providing financial incentives to employees based on their level of achievement of these goals.

The compensation program consists of the following components:

Base Salary – Base salary and annual adjustments are based on an assessment of the individual executive's responsibility, experience, contribution and assessed performance and the financial performance of the Corporation as well as salary levels for other companies in a market peer benchmark. The annual adjustment date is the start of the pay period in which July 1 occurs. For the CEO, base salary is set by taking into account salary levels of US companies in the consumer packaged goods industry. With respect to the CFO, base salary is set by taking into account salary levels of Canadian companies of a similar size (75% weighting) and several US companies in the consumer packaged goods industry (25% weighting).

Compensation for the President, Fresh Bakery and the President, Frozen Bakery were benchmarked to the Mercer Executive Management and Professional Survey, a compensation database for Canada (75% weight) and the US (25% weight) for companies in the same size range. The salary for the President, Fresh Prepared Foods, who was recently hired, was not set or amended with reference to any formal benchmark database.

In 2009, in light of the weak performance of the Corporation attributable to, among other things, high commodity prices, base salaries were not increased.

For 2009, the benchmark companies were:

Annual Incentive Plan – The Corporation's annual incentive plan is known as Rewards for Excellence ("RFE"). RFE aims to enhance the link between pay and performance by:

- Aligning the financial and operational interests and motivations of the Corporation's management team and employees with the annual financial returns of the Corporation;
- Motivating management to work towards common annual performance objectives while acknowledging and rewarding individual goal achievement;
- Providing total cash compensation that is greater than the median of the market peer group in cases where superior financial performance in excess of target objectives is attained; and
- Providing total cash compensation that is at or below the market median in cases where performance objectives are not attained.

Under the plan, one portion of an executive's bonus is determined by team performance against earnings before tax ("EBT") targets and another portion by the achievement of personal objectives. Participation levels for the bonus program are determined by market competitiveness. The table below outlines the components of the plan for the NEOs.

The following table illustrates the RFE payout as a percentage of base salary at the minimum, target and maximum performance levels.

	Payout as % of Salary			Team Performance		Personal Objectives
Executive	Target	Minimum[1]	Maximum	Measure	%	Measure	%
CEO & CFO	80%	35%	125%	EBT[3] for MLF as a whole	80%	[2]	20%
President, Frozen Bakery and President, Fresh Bakery	60%	25%	95%	EBT[3] for Business Unit	75%	[2]	25%
President, Fresh Prepared Foods	35%	35[4]%	60%	EBT[3] for Business Unit	75%	[2]	25%

Notes:

(1) Below the minimum performance level, no bonus is payable. At the minimum level, the amount shown is payable.

(2) Personal objectives are set based on the executive's area of responsibility, such as a goal to launch new products or open a new plant or a new line. The objectives are established at the start of the year and are approved by the Board.

(3) Earnings before tax excluding unusual items. Mr. Lan is CEO of the Corporation as well as Chief Operating Officer, Food Group, Maple Leaf Foods Inc. Mr. Vels, the CFO of the Corporation, is also CFO of Maple Leaf Foods Inc. Their compensation is paid by Maple Leaf Foods, with a portion borne by the Corporation through a shared services agreement. For both executives, the team portion of the RFE bonus is calculated on the earnings for Maple Leaf Foods as a whole, including Canada Bread.

(4) Mr. Wookey joined the Corporation in 2008 and was guaranteed a bonus payment at the target level for 2008 and 2009.

The following table illustrates the bonus payout as a percentage of base salary at the minimum, target and maximum performance levels.

Annual Incentive Range and Components

		Team Performance Component[1]			Personal Performance Component[1]
Performance Level	Target Bonus	Minimum Performance 75%[2]	Target Performance 100%	Maximum Performance 125%[2]	Minimum Performance 75%	Target Performance 100%	Maximum Performance 125%

President, Fresh Prepared Foods	35%	26.25%	26.25%	45%	8.75%	8.75%	15%

Notes:

(1) For performance below the minimum, no bonus is payable, and for performance above the maximum, the maximum is payable.

(2) Minimum performance of 75% is required for a bonus payment and 125% for a maximum payment. Mr. Wookey was guaranteed a bonus to be no less than the target amount for 2008 and 2009.

Annual Incentive for 2009

Wookey, S.	100.0[2][3]	94,784	7	110.7	41,266	136,050

Notes:

(1) For both Mr. Lan and Mr. Vels, the team portion of the RFE bonus is calculated on the earnings for Maple Leaf Foods as a whole, including the results of Canada Bread.

(2) The targets are calibrated so that they can be achieved with strong effort and no unusual circumstances. A maximum payout, while possible, is not likely to occur frequently. Over time, the average score is expected to be close to 100%.

(3) The actual results were below 100%. Accordingly, the payout was at the target amount pursuant to the guaranteee as described in footnote (4) to the table at the top of this page.

Equity Incentive Compensation – Senior employees of the Corporation are eligible to participate in the Maple Leaf Foods share compensation arrangements, and awards have been granted to executives from time to time, based on recommendations by senior management. Participation in the Maple Leaf Foods equity incentive program is designed to:

- Recognize and reward the impact of longer-term strategic actions undertaken by management;
- Align the interests of the Corporation's key employees and its shareholders;
- Focus management on developing and successfully implementing the continuing growth strategy of the Corporation;
- Foster the retention of key management personnel; and
- Attract talented individuals to the Corporation.

In 2006, the Maple Leaf Foods restricted share unit ("RSU") plan was revised. Under the revised plan, on maturity, vested RSUs are distributed in the form of shares purchased by a trust on the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX"). The maturity period under the structure is limited to three years. The performance vesting formula (based on the Maple Leaf Foods' total shareholder return versus the S&P Food Index) has remained in place, with some modifications. For each RSU granted, one share is awarded on maturity if Maple Leaf Foods' performance equals the S&P Food Index. (The S&P Food Index, while not a published index, is maintained by Standard & Poor's and consists of the food company stocks, approximately 30, that are in the S&P 500 Index, the S&P Midcap 400 and the S&P Smallcap 600.) At 75% performance or less, one-half share vests and is awarded for each RSU held. At 125% performance, the maximum, one and one-half shares, vest and are awarded for each RSU held.

Performance[1]	Percent Vesting
75% or below	50%
100%	100%[2]
125% or above	150%[2]

Notes:

(1) Performance means Maple Leaf Foods' total shareholder return expressed as a percentage of the S&P Food Index total shareholder return for the same period.

(2) Vesting is prorated if performance is between 75% and 100%, or 100% and 125%.

Three years following the date of grant, all RSUs that have vested in accordance with the table will vest and be distributed as shares.

The number of share options and RSUs granted to each executive and to all senior managers is based on individual performance assessments. The number of RSUs granted is based on the expected value of the RSUs. For each executive, the award is based on the median of similar awards in a benchmark peer group and the executive's individual performance.

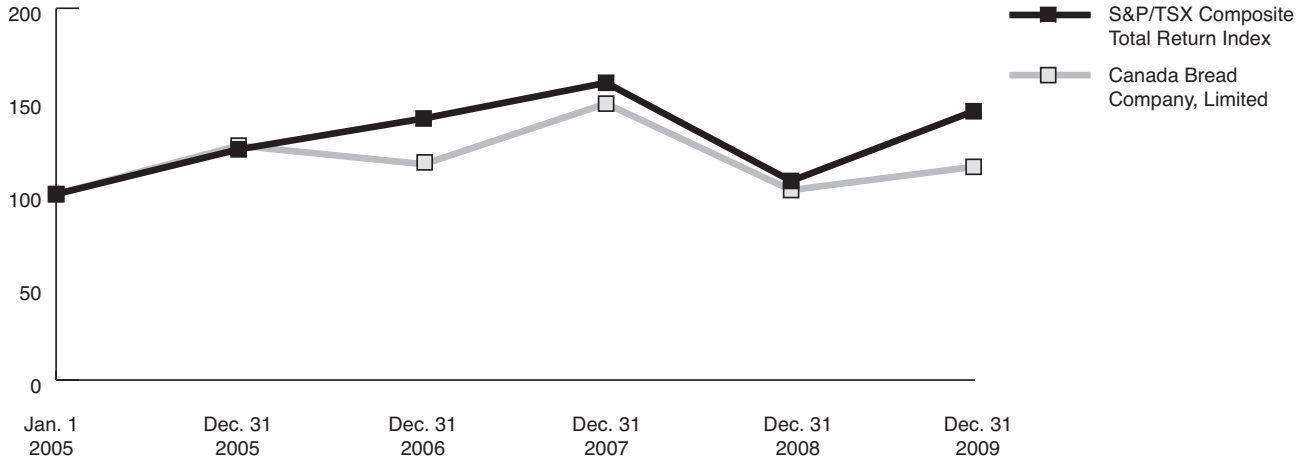

Benefits and Perquisites

Group Benefits – Executives enjoy the same group benefits (Life, Health, Dental, Disability, Optional Life) as other salaried employees of the Corporation. Benefits and perquisites for the NEOs are below the lesser of $50,000 or 10% of their base salary. Perquisites consist of a car benefit, club membership, annual medical examination and financial counselling. The Corporation does not believe that these compensation features help it to attract, retain and/or motivate executives to any material extent.

Pension Benefits – Pension benefits provided to executives are non-discriminatory. Executives participate in the pension arrangements available to substantially all of the Corporation's salaried employees. In the case of senior executives participating in the Canadian defined benefit pension and defined contribution plans, all required contributions are made by the Corporation, while non-executive salaried employees are required to make contributions to the plan. Mr. Wookey was awarded senior executive status in the plan effective January 1, 2010.

SHARE PERFORMANCE TABLE

The following chart compares the total cumulative shareholder return of $100 invested in Canada Bread Common Shares for the period January 1, 2005, to December 31, 2009, with the cumulative total return of the S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index for the same period. The Corporation's Common Shares closed at $52.25 on the TSX on December 31, 2009, the last trading day prior to the end of the fiscal year.

Comparison of Executive Compensation and Shareholder Returns

For the five years of compensation in the measurement period, compensation of the five executives who were NEOs increased by 18%, while the total shareholder return on the Corporation's shares was 14%. The following table shows the shareholder return and total compensation for that period.

It is important to note that the total compensation included the full earnings for both the CEO and the CFO, who are paid by the Corporation's parent company, Maple Leaf Foods Inc. Compensation decisions regarding the CEO and CFO are made by the Board of Directors and the Human Resources and Compensation Committee of Maple Leaf Foods Inc. and then reviewed with the Governance Committee of Canada Bread Company, Limited. The CEO's and CFO's compensation is borne partially by Canada Bread Company, Limited and partially by Maple Leaf Foods Inc. through a shared services and cost-sharing agreement.

Total Shareholder Return:
S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index	45%	35%	-33%	14%	13%	24%
Canada Bread Company, Limited [(1)]	14%	11%	-31%	28%	-8%	26%
Total Compensation for all NEOs [(2)]	$44.3	$10.8	$8.6	$10.6	$7.2	$7.1

Notes:

(1) Total shareholder return is calculated on the basis of the year-end share value with dividends reinvested. The amount in the "Total 2005–2009" column is the aggregate compound return over the five-year period.

(2) The total compensation shown for all NEOs is the total compensation as that term is defined for purposes of the summary compensation table for the executives who were NEOs in the year reported.

SUMMARY COMPENSATION TABLE

The following table provides a summary of compensation earned during each of the last three fiscal years by the CEO, the CFO (including any individual who held the position during the year) and the three most highly compensated executive officers other than the CEO and CFO. The CEO, CFO and other executive officers are referred to collectively as the "NEOs". This information is given as of December 31, 2009, the end of the most recently completed financial year of the Corporation.

Notes:

(1) All compensation shown for Mr. Lan other than equity-based and long-term compensation amounts is paid in US dollars. The amounts in the table above were converted using the average exchange rate for the relevant year, as reported by the Bank of Canada: 1.1420 in 2009, 1.0660 in 2008 and 1.0748 in 2007. In the table below under the heading "Summary Compensation Table – Supplemental Information", Mr. Lan's compensation is shown in US dollars.

(2) The share-based awards represent restricted share units ("RSUs") granted under the Maple Leaf Foods 2006 Share Incentive Plan, details of which are found on page 17 under the heading entitled "Share-Based Incentive Plans". The RSUs have been valued using assumptions and methodology consistent with those for valuing the expense in the Maple Leaf Foods financial statements, except that no discount for potential forfeiture of RSUs due to termination of employment was factored into the valuation. The number of shares expected to vest under the plan was estimated based on the historic volatility of Maple Leaf Foods' share price in comparison to the volatility of the S&P Food Index. The assumptions used for accounting purposes are found in Note 14 of the financial statements of Maple Leaf Foods for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008. The financial statements may be found on the website of Maple Leaf Foods at www.mapleleaf.ca and on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

(3) Messrs. Lan and Wookey participate in defined contribution plans of the Corporation. Mr. McLean and Mr. Ménard are members of the Canada Bread defined benefit pension plans, while Mr. Vels belongs to the Maple Leaf Foods defined benefit pension plans. The amount in the table above represents the pension expense related to the service for each of the NEOs, including the impact of differences between actual compensation paid in 2009 and the actuarial assumptions used for the year. The amount shown for Mr. Lan is the Corporation's contribution to a defined contribution 401(k) plan in the United States and for Mr. Wookey to the Corporation's defined contribution pension arrangements for salaried employees.

(4) The amounts shown in the "All Other Compensation" column for Mr. Wookey are related to relocation. Mr. Wookey relocated from the U.K. to Canada in 2008 and was reimbursed for his relocation costs under the terms of the Corporation's relocation policy, which applies to all salaried employees. With the exception of school relocation consulting fees reimbursed in 2008 ($3,600) and a mortgage interest differential paid in 2009 ($15,042), both of which are included in the table above, all other relocation expenses are generally reimbursed for all permanent international employee moves as set out below. Under the policy, the Corporation reimbursed Mr. Wookey for the cost of moving his family and personal effects, the cost of cross-border tax assistance, temporary living expenses, home sale and purchase expenses, interest reimbursement for bridge financing and provided an allowance of one month's salary for other incidental expenses. Mr. Wookey also participated in the optional guaranteed home sale program under which the Corporation guarantees the value of the employee's home at its appraised market value and assumes responsibility for its carrying costs after it is vacated. The Corporation incurred a total cost of $165,738 under the program: $4,678 in 2008 and $161,066 in 2009. Although the Corporation reserves the right to not extend this program in the case of homes located outside of North America, generally it has been offered in all international moves. Mr. Wookey also received a market differential allowance, which reimburses employees for mortgage interest costs incurred as a consequence of higher housing prices in the new work location and includes a tax gross-up. The allowance equals a reimbursement of interest on $200,000 of mortgage principal which started in 2009 and will continue for three years. This benefit, while commonly provided, is not generally available to all employee moves.

Share-Based Incentive Plans

In 2006, Maple Leaf Foods adopted a new share-based incentive compensation plan (the "2006 Plan" or the "RSU Plan") for its employees and executive officers and employees and executive officers of its subsidiaries (including Canada Bread). The 2006 Plan provides for the grant of restricted share units ("RSUs"). On maturity, assuming the performance criteria are achieved, participants receive one fully paid share of Maple Leaf Foods for each vested RSU held (subject to upward or downward adjustment based on performance). The following table sets out the RSUs awarded to the NEOs in 2009 under the 2006 Plan. Executives of Canada Bread have participated in Maple Leaf Foods' three equity incentive plans: the 1982 Option Plan, the 2004 Share Incentive Plan and the 2006 Plan. The 2004 Share Incentive Plan provides for the grant of options and RSUs that are satisfied by the issuance of shares by Maple Leaf Foods from treasury. The 2006 Plan provides for the grant of RSUs that are satisfied through the acquisition of Maple Leaf Foods shares in the market by a trust established for that purpose. Share options were issued under the 1982 Option Plan and the 2004 Share Incentive Plan.

Generally, all share options and RSUs have a performance condition whereby vesting is based on the total return of the Maple Leaf Foods' shares for the relevant period compared with the total return of the S&P Food Index, a group of approximately 30 North American food stocks.

Notes:

(1) All share options listed in the table above vest over a minimum of three years and maximum of five years based on the return of the Maple Leaf Foods shares for the period compared with the return of the S&P Food Index. If the total return of the Maple Leaf Foods shares is below 75% of the total return of the comparative index for the relevant measurement period, none of the options vest. At 75%, one-half vest. If performance falls between 75% and 100%, a proportionate number will vest. The options have a term of seven years but expire earlier if the executive ceases to be an employee.

(2) The in-the-money value was calculated using the closing share price of Maple Leaf Foods on the TSX of $11.67 per share on December 31, 2009.

(3) RSUs granted before 2006 were granted under the Maple Leaf Foods 2004 Share Incentive Plan. Under the plan, for each RSU awarded, if the performance-vesting conditions are met, one share of Maple Leaf Foods will be distributed to the participant. The RSUs vest over three to five years based on the total return of Maple Leaf Foods' shares for the period compared with the total return of the S&P Food Index. If the total return of Maple Leaf Foods' shares is below 75% of the total return of the comparative index for the relevant measurement period, none of the RSUs vest. At 75%, one-half vest. If performance falls between 75% and 100%, a proportionate number will vest. On maturity, participants receive one fully paid share for each vested RSU held. The RSUs meeting the performance criteria on or before the first three years vest at the end of year three, while RSUs meeting the performance feature in years four and five vest at the end of year five. The RSUs vest fully only on the distribution date, and an executive who ceases to be an employee prior to the distribution date forfeits the awards.

(4) Since 2006, all RSUs have been granted under the Maple Leaf Foods 2006 RSU Plan. For each RSU granted, one share is awarded on maturity if Maple Leaf Foods' performance equals the S&P Food Index. At 75% performance or below, one-half share vests and is awarded. At 125% performance, the maximum one and one-half shares vest and are awarded. Vesting is prorated if performance is between 75% and 100% or 100% and 125%. For grants from 2006 through 2008, one-quarter of the number of RSUs vest and are distributed to holders 18 months after the date of grant. Three years following the date of grant, all RSUs vesting pursuant to the formula above, less in the case of grants from 2006 through 2008 the RSUs that vested and were distributed earlier, will vest and be distributed. The RSUs vest fully only on the distribution date, and an executive who ceases to be an employee prior to the distribution date forfeits the awards. The number of shares shown in the table above is the maximum number of shares that will be distributed, assuming Maple Leaf Foods' share price performance exceeds the 125% maximum.

(5) The market payout value is based on:

(i) the share price of Maple Leaf Foods at December 31, 2009, $11.67; and

(ii) the number of Maple Leaf Foods shares that will be distributed assuming that Maple Leaf Foods' share price performance for all performance periods ending after December 31, 2009, is below the 75% minimum described in footnotes 3 and 4 above.

Notes:

(1) In 2009, RSUs granted on October 1, 2006, and October 1, 2007, vested in part, and the shares were distributed to the participants. The amount in the table reflects the value of the shares distributed using the average trading price of the shares on the date of distribution – $8.47 for shares distributed on June 1, 2009 (for October 1, 2007, grants), and $11.86 for shares distributed on November 23, 2009 (for October 1, 2006, grants).

(2) The amounts in this column represent the payments under the RFE annual incentive plan, the details of which are described under the subheading "Annual Incentive Plan" on pages 12 to 13 of this circular.

Pension/Retirement Plans

The Corporation, either directly or through designated subsidiaries, currently maintains a number of defined benefit and defined contribution pension plans for its employees.

As noted in the footnotes to the Summary Compensation Table, Mr. Lan participates in a defined contribution 401(k) plan of the Corporation, while Mr. Wookey participates in a defined contribution arrangement maintained for employees in Canada. Mr. McLean and Mr. Ménard are members of the Canada Bread defined benefit pension plan, while Mr. Vels belongs to the Maple Leaf Foods defined benefit pension plan. Mr. Ménard also has credited years of service under the Multi-Marques Inc. pension plan. Specific information pertaining to each of these pension plans is detailed below.

The accrued pension liability is calculated following the method prescribed by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and is based on management's best estimate of future events that affect the cost of pensions, including assumptions about future salary adjustments. The amounts in the table are for defined benefit plan obligations. Changes in the accrued pension liabilities for the NEOs are summarized in the following table. These changes include the fiscal 2009 expense attributed to service and compensation (see footnote (4) to the table below) as well as changes arising from the annual valuation of the Corporation's pension plans, which includes all employees who are participants (see footnote (5) to the table below).

Defined Benefit Plans Table

Name	Years of Credited Service[1]	Annual Benefits Payable		Accrued Obligation at January 1, 2009[6]	Compensatory Change[4]	Non-Compensatory Change[5]	Accrued Obligation at December 31, 2009[6]
		At Year End[2]	At Age 65[3]
		$	$	$	$	$	$
Vels, M.H.	18.5	215,188	401,296	1,485,381	29,698	370,314	1,885,393
McLean, C.B.	9.2	84,576	222,924	570,799	48,338	144,516	763,653
Ménard. R.G.	10.3	51,405	57,831	460,373	64,265	62,895	587,533

Notes:

(1) The number in this column is the number of years of credited service under the defined benefit arrangements as at December 31, 2009.

(2) This is the amount of pension the executive will be entitled to at retirement at year end and is based on the salary and years of credited service earned to December 31, 2009. The actual pension the executive will receive may be higher (due to additional years of service after 2009 or increase in the average earnings after December 31, 2009) or lower if the executive elects to receive a longer period of guaranteed payments or if the pension payable is paid on a joint survivor basis with a spouse.

(3) This is the amount of pension the executive will be entitled to at retirement at age 65 and is based on the salary to December 31, 2009, and years of credited service earned to the year in which the executive turns 65. The actual pension the executive will receive may be higher (due to additional years of service after age 65 or increase in the average earnings after December 31, 2009) or lower if the executive elects to receive a longer period of guaranteed payments or if the pension payable is paid on a joint survivor basis with a spouse.

(4) The amount in this column includes the service cost for the year as well as experience gains and losses arising from the executive's salary increase for the year being greater or lesser than the assumption used for the plan as a whole.

(5) The amount in this column includes interest on the beginning-of-year liability and contributions, as well as changes in interest rate assumptions as the result of changes in long-term bond yields and changes in exchange rates.

(6) The calculation of reported amounts uses actuarial assumptions and methods that are consistent with those used for calculating pension liabilities and annual expenses, as disclosed in the Corporation's and Maple Leaf Foods' 2009 and 2008 consolidated financial statements. As the assumptions reflect the Corporation's (in the case of pension benefits for Messrs. McLean and Ménard) and Maple Leaf Foods' (in the case of pension benefits for Mr. Vels) best estimate of future events, the values shown in the above table may not be directly comparable to similar estimates of pension liabilities that may be disclosed by other corporations. However, the figures in the table are calculated on the assumption that the executive's employment will terminate at the normal retirement age.

Defined Contribution Plans Table

Mr. Lan participates in the Corporation's 401(k) plan for its US employees. Mr. Wookey participates in the defined contribution plan for salaried employees in Canada.

Name	Accumulated Value at January 1, 2009[1]	Compensatory Change[2]	Non-Compensatory Change[3]	Accumulated Value at December 31, 2009
	$	$	$	$
Lan, R.A.	319,514	11,191	63,404	394,109
Wookey, S.	10,536	21,420	12,787	44,743
Supplemental Information:
Lan, R.A. in US$[1]	262,326	9,800	102,859	374,985

Notes:

(1) The pension account for Mr. Lan is held in US dollars and is translated to Canadian dollars at the appropriate exchange rate. The year-end balances are translated at the year-end exchange rates, and the Corporation's contribution is translated at the average exchange rate for the year, in each case as reported by the Bank of Canada.

(2) The amount in this column includes the contribution made by the Corporation to the plan in respect of the executive.

(3) The amount in this column includes employee contributions together with investments earnings. In the case of Mr. Lan, whose plan is maintained in US dollars, the column includes amounts attributable to the changes to the exchange rates during the year.

Termination and Change of Control Benefits

The Corporation does not have contracts of employments with any of its NEOs which specify benefits payable on termination of employment or change of control.

However, rules apply to all participants in the Maple Leaf Foods 2006 Plan, including the NEOs, on termination of employment.

Reason For Termination of Employment	Termination of RSUs
Termination by the Corporation for Cause	RSUs held expire on the date of termination.
Termination by voluntary resignation	RSUs held expire on the date of termination.
Termination by the Corporation without Cause	RSUs granted less than six months before the date of termination expire on termination. RSUs granted more than six months before the date of termination – a proportionate(1) number of RSUs continue to be held to the maturity/distribution date.
Retirement (2)	RSUs granted less than six months before the date of termination expire on termination. RSUs granted more than six months before the date of termination continue to be held to the maturity/distribution date.
Early Retirement (3)	RSUs granted less than six months before the date of termination expire on termination. RSUs granted more than six months before the date of termination – a proportionate(1) number of RSUs continue to be held to the maturity/distribution date.

Notes:

(1) The proportion is equal to the number of months from the date of grant to the date of termination to the number of months from the date of grant to the distribution date.

(2) Retirement is defined as termination of employment other than by the Corporation for cause, at the time when the employee was 60 years or older and had at least 10 years of service.

(3) Early retirement is defined as termination of employment other than by the Corporation for cause, at the time when the employee was 55 years or older and had at least 10 years of service.

REPORT ON CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

This Statement of Corporate Governance Practices has been prepared by the Governance Committee of the Board and has been approved by the Board.

The Board and management of the Corporation are committed to maintaining a high standard of corporate governance. The Board has responsibility for the overall stewardship of the Corporation and discharges such responsibility by reviewing, discussing and approving the Corporation's strategic planning and organizational structure and supervising management with a view to preserving and enhancing the underlying value of the Corporation. Management of the business within this structure is the responsibility of the Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") and senior management.

The Board has adopted the guidelines and employs practices and procedures related to corporate governance matters, which are summarized below:

BOARD RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Board Mandate

   The Board has responsibility for the stewardship of the Corporation and has adopted a formal mandate setting out the Board's stewardship responsibilities, including the Board's responsibilities for the appointment of management, strategic planning, monitoring of financial performance, financial reporting, risk management and oversight of the Corporation's policies and procedures, communications and reporting and compliance. A full copy of the Board's mandate is available on SEDAR (www.sedar.com) and is incorporated by reference into this Management Information Circular.

2. Corporate Strategy

   Management is led by the CEO, who is responsible for the development of long-term corporate strategy, while the role of the Board is to review, question, validate and, ultimately, after incorporating the Board's suggestions into the proposals of management, to approve the strategies of each division of the Corporation and the Corporation as a whole. The process of strategy development is continuous and evolving, and the Board receives periodic updates from management on developments to the Corporation's long-term strategy. On a rotating basis, the Board conducts an in-depth review of each division's operations, competitive positioning and strategy. At the time it reviews the Corporation's annual budget, the Board reviews the Corporation's strategic plans.

   The Board also reviews periodic updates of the Corporation's progress on its strategic goals and makes major decisions in the context of the strategic plan.

3. Succession Planning

   Management succession planning is an ongoing activity. The Board ensures that succession planning programs are in place, including programs to appoint, train, develop and monitor management.

4. Board Communication with Stakeholders

   The Corporation has adopted and follows a Disclosure Policy for the Corporation. The Board, or an appropriate committee of the Board, reviews the content of the Corporation's major communications to shareholders and the investing public, including quarterly and annual reports, management's discussion and analysis, proxy circulars, the annual information form and any prospectuses.

   The Board believes management should speak for the Corporation in its communications with the investment community, the media, customers, suppliers, employees, governments and the general public. If communications from stakeholders are made to the Chairman or other individual directors, management is informed and consulted to determine any appropriate response.

5. Corporate Governance

   The Governance Committee is responsible for developing and recommending improvements to corporate governance guidelines, policies and mandates for implementation by the Board.

BOARD ORGANIZATION AND MEMBERSHIP

6. Chairman of the Board

   The Board has approved and periodically reviews a written position description for the Chairman that sets out the responsibilities and accountabilities of the Chairman, which include duties relating to setting Board meeting agendas, chairing Board and shareholder meetings and, together with the Chairman of the Governance Committee, conducting director and Board assessments.

7. Board Size and Selection of New Director Candidates

   The maximum number of directors permitted by the Corporation's Articles is 12, and the minimum number is five. Within that range, the Board is authorized to establish the number of directors.

   The Corporation's largest shareholder, Maple Leaf Foods, holds 89.8% of the outstanding Common shares; this effectively gives it control of the nomination process. The Chairman of the Board and the Governance Committee and its Chairman, however, have led the process of new director nominations for independent directors in consultation with Maple Leaf Foods. Each member of the Governance Committee is independent. Other directors are encouraged to identify potential candidates for nomination.

8. Independence of Directors

   Subject to the rights of the majority shareholder, at all times a sufficient number of independent directors are to be nominated to represent the interest of other shareholders. The Board has defined an independent director to mean a director who is not a member of management and is free from any interest and any business, family or other relationship which could, or could reasonably be perceived to, materially interfere with the director's ability to act with a view to the best interests of the Corporation.

   A director shall not be considered to be independent if the director would not be considered independent under director independence tests for Audit Committee membership under applicable securities laws.

   The Board annually reviews the report of the Governance Committee on its review of the independence of each of the non-management directors.

   The following directors are considered to be "independent":

   W.E. Aziz S.A. Everett J.F. Petch

   The following directors are considered to be "not independent" as they are executive officers of either the Corporation or its 89.8% shareholder, Maple Leaf Foods, which provides management services to the Corporation:

   G.W.F. McCain – Chairman of the Board of Maple Leaf Foods

   M.H. McCain – Chairman of the Board of the Corporation and CEO of Maple Leaf Foods

   J.S. McCain – President and Chief Operating Officer, Agribusiness Group, Maple Leaf Foods

   R.A. Lan – CEO of the Corporation and Chief Operating Officer, Foods Group, Maple Leaf Foods

   M.H. Vels – CFO of the Corporation and Maple Leaf Foods Inc.

9. Term Limits for Directors

   The Board values the increased insight into the Corporation and its strategy and operations that directors develop and the increased contribution that directors make over a long period of service. For this reason, the Board has not established fixed term limits as it would have the effect of forcing off the Board directors who have developed these insights. To ensure continued effectiveness of each director, the Board relies on its performance evaluation process.

10. Composition of the Board

    Annually, the Governance Committee reviews the competencies, skills and personal qualities of candidates to be considered for nomination to the Board. The objective of this review is to maintain the composition of the Board in a way that provides, in the judgment of the Board, the best mix of skills and experience to provide for the overall stewardship of the Corporation. The Governance Committee takes into account the desirability of maintaining a reasonable diversity of personal characteristics such as age, gender, geographic residence and origin. However, all directors must possess the highest personal and professional ethics, integrity and values and be committed to representing the long-term interests of the shareholders. They must also have an inquisitive and objective perspective, practical wisdom and mature judgment, outstanding ability in their individual fields of expertise and a willingness to devote necessary time to Board matters.

11. Director Orientation and Education

The Governance Committee is responsible for the orientation and education of new directors as well as the continuing education of existing outside directors. A standard template has not been developed as the skills, knowledge of the Corporation and the industry and background of each new director will in large measure determine the nature and intensity of the orientation and education. The Committee oversees the continuous education of directors in the Corporation's various operational units, functional areas and other areas of interest to the directors. This is accomplished with a program of regular presentations, briefings and plant visits.

The Corporation maintains a program called "Board Connect" under which outside directors spend one day each year working with management of an operating unit or functional area. The plan is designed to provide opportunities for directors to engage in specific areas of the business at a deeper level and to engage employees very directly, enabling directors to assess the depth and breadth of management resources.

BOARD COMMITTEES AND TERMS OF REFERENCE

12. Board Committees

The Board has established two Board committees: (i) the Audit Committee; and (ii) the Governance Committee. This structure may change as the Board considers from time to time which of its responsibilities can best be fulfilled through a detailed review of matters at the committee level. Each committee operates according to a Board-approved written charter outlining its duties and responsibilities. A written set of procedures and policies set out the role of each committee chairman.

The purpose of Board committees is to assist the Board in discharging its responsibilities. Notwithstanding the delegation of responsibilities to a Board committee, the Board is ultimately responsible for matters assigned to each committee for its determination. Except as may be explicitly provided in the charter of the committee or a resolution of the Board, the role of the Board committee is to review and make recommendations to the Board with respect to the approval of matters considered by the committee.

13. Membership of Committees

The Board has determined that each committee shall be composed entirely of independent directors. In addition, all members of the Audit Committee shall be financially literate within the meaning of applicable securities laws.

After receipt of recommendations from the Governance Committee, the Board appoints the members of the committees annually, and as necessary to fill vacancies, and generally appoints the chair of each committee. Members of the committees hold office at the pleasure of the Board.

The Committees' members and year first appointed are as follows:

Audit Committee		Governance Committee
W.E. Aziz, as Chairman	2005	J.F. Petch, as Chairman	1995
J.F. Petch, and	2008	W.E. Aziz, and	2008

BOARD MEETINGS AND MATERIALS

15. Functioning of the Board

    The Governance Committee, together with the Chairman of the Board, is responsible for assessing and recommending changes to ensure that the Board carries out its objectives effectively and operates independently of management.

16. Meeting Agendas, Materials and Attendance of Non-Directors

    Procedures are in place governing the conduct of meetings, including, among other things, agendas, distribution of briefing materials and attendance of non-directors at meetings. These procedures are followed to promote informed and effective consideration of the matters on the agenda. Other senior managers attend each Board meeting to provide information and opinions to assist the directors in their deliberations.

17. In Camera Meetings

    At each Board and Committee meeting, the independent directors meet in camera without management or the non-independent directors present. The Chairman of the Governance Committee acts as Chairman of the in camera session of the Board meetings. During the last completed fiscal year, there were six (6) in camera meetings.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION AND SHARE OWNERSHIP

18. Director Compensation

    The Board has determined that the directors should be compensated in a form and amount which is appropriate and which is customary for comparable companies, having regard for such matters as time commitment, responsibility and trends in director compensation.

    The Governance Committee reviews the compensation of the directors annually. The Governance Committee review includes consideration of all forms of compensation that a director receives, directly or indirectly. Directors are encouraged to use all or a portion of their annual fees to purchase shares of the Corporation.

BOARD'S RELATIONSHIP WITH MANAGEMENT

19. Board Relationship with Management

    Management shall make appropriate use of the Board's skills before decisions are made on key issues. The Governance Committee shall review and assess the Board's relationship with management.

20. Limits to Management Authority

    As required by the Corporation's by-laws, the Board has established general authority guidelines that place limits on management's approval authority depending on the nature and size of the proposed transaction. These limits provide for some flexibility within approved budgets but require that transactions outside defined limits be approved by the Board or an appropriate committee.

21. Evaluation of the CEO

    The Governance Committee conducts an annual review of the performance of the CEO against a written position description and the goals and objectives that have been established by the Committee and reviews, assesses and recommends the compensation of the CEO to the Board for approval. The results of the review are communicated to the CEO by the Chair of the Governance Committee.

22. Director Access to Management

    All directors are to have open access to the Corporation's senior management for relevant information. Individual directors are encouraged to make themselves available for consultations with management outside Board meetings in order to provide specific advice and counsel on subjects where such directors have special knowledge and experience.

    The Corporation also uses a program called "Board Connect" under which directors spend one day working with management of an operating unit or functional area. The plan is designed to provide opportunities for directors to engage in specific areas of the business at a deeper level and to engage employees very directly, enabling an assessment of the depth and breadth of management resources. The program remains in effect.

DIRECTOR RESPONSIBILITIES AND PERFORMANCE

23. Director Responsibilities

Directors are expected to use their skill and experience to provide oversight to the business of the Corporation. Directors have a duty to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation and to exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. Directors are expected to attend all Board and committee meetings in person (or by telephone). In circumstances where a director is unable to do so, he or she has the opportunity to communicate his or her views that are then shared with the full Board. A summary of the attendance record of each director at Board and committee meetings in 2009 is detailed on page 27.

24. Outside Advisors for Individual Directors

The Board has determined that any director who wishes to engage a non-management advisor to assist on matters involving his or her responsibilities as a director at the expense of the Corporation should review the request with, and obtain the authorization of, the Governance Committee. This pre-approval requirement does not limit the authority of the Audit Committee to engage consultants or advisors on matters of financial reporting.

25. Assessment of Board and Individual Director Performance

The Governance Committee periodically assesses the effectiveness of the Board through discussions and surveys. Informally, the performance and contribution of individual directors is assessed by the Governance Committee. The Committee has adopted a formalized program of periodic directors' assessment with a view to improving effectiveness, consisting of a self-assessment by individual directors followed by an interview with the Chairman of the Board and Chairman of the Governance Committee. The overall results and conclusions are shared with the full Board.

ETHICS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

26. Ethical Behaviour

The Board takes all steps to assure itself of the ethics and integrity of the CEO and the executive officers and to ensure that the appropriate "tone at the top" for ethical conduct is established.

27. Code of Business Practice

The Board expects directors, officers and employees to act ethically at all times and to acknowledge their adherence to the policies comprising the Code of Business Conduct, which the Corporation, together with its parent company, Maple Leaf Foods, adopted in 1999. Each year, every employee is required to reaffirm in writing his or her adherence to the Code of Business Conduct concurrent with his or her performance review. New employees are given a copy of the Code upon joining the Corporation. Copies are available from the Corporation at 10 Four Seasons Place, Etobicoke, Ontario M9B 6H7 and are also available on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

An "Ethics Committee" comprised of management personnel for the Corporation and Maple Leaf Foods reviews and addresses issues of interpretation of the Code raised by employees and proposes changes to the Code. The Ethics Committee reports on its activities to the Governance Committee.

28. Whistle-blower Procedures

The Corporation has set up a whistle-blower hotline named the EthicsLine. The EthicsLine provides employees with an avenue to raise concerns such as fraud, accounting irregularities, kickbacks, product tampering or other issues. The process was designed to reassure complainants that they will be protected from reprisals or victimization when reporting concerns in good faith. All calls are recorded and logged at an independent call centre, and the incidents reported are tracked and resolved using the case management system. The Audit Committee reviews reports on the calls and their resolution on a quarterly basis.

29. Conflicts of Interest

In addition to the statutory responsibilities of directors to disclose all actual or potential conflicts of interest and generally to refrain from voting on matters in which he or she has a conflict of interest, a director is required to declare his or her interest in the matter to be discussed and shall recuse himself or herself from any discussion or decision on any matter in which the director is precluded from voting as a result of a conflict of interest or which otherwise affects his or her personal, business or professional interests.

On January 30, 1985, the directors established an incentive stock option plan for the Corporation (the "Plan"), which was approved by shareholders. The Plan, as amended on February 8, 1995, permits the directors to grant options to full-time employees of the Corporation or its affiliates to purchase the Corporation's unissued Common Shares. The Plan provides that the option price is based on the average of the ten (10) days' closing price of the Common Shares on the TSX preceding the date of grant. Options under the Plan expire ten years from the date of grant, 270 days following the death of any employee, 90 days following the termination of employment of the optionee or 270 days following the retirement of the optionee under a retirement plan of the Corporation or any affiliated company or such longer period as the directors, in their discretion, determine. The options, at the discretion of the Board, may be subject to staged vesting over a period of up to five years.

Options to be issued under the Plan will be exercisable only upon full payment, in cash, of the option price. Any options issued under the Plan are embodied in written instruments containing provisions, among others, relating to anti-dilution. There have been no option grants under this plan since 1995, and there is no present intention to make additional grants.

DIRECTORS' AND OFFICERS' LIABILITY INSURANCE

Directors' and officers' liability insurance has been arranged through the Corporation's controlling shareholder, Maple Leaf Foods. The Corporation's share of the annual premium cost for the year ended December 31, 2009, was $28,281. This amount was not allocated as between officers and directors. The insurance limit under the policy is $50,000,000 for each loss and each policy year, with the Corporation subject to a $100,000 deductible provision. The directors and officers are not liable for any payment under a deductibility clause or payment of any premium.
