Board Diversity Policy

Question

Does the company have a policy on board diversity?

Rationale

Corporate boards are tasked with monitoring companies' management teams on behalf of those companies' shareholders and other stakeholders. Boards are the direct representatives of these stakeholders and form one of the most important components of corporate governance. It is therefore important that the board-members selected have the right experience and skills, are sufficiently independent, and act in the best interests of all stakeholders.

Diversity adds value to the board, through differences in perspective and experience. Diverse boards will be able to assess problems from a broader point of view and are more likely to take into account the best interests of all stakeholders. Furthermore, studies have shown a positive correlation between gender diversity on boards and companies' financial performance. It can also be important for board members to have a broad and complementary range of skills, although boards' needs can differ across individual companies and industries depending on the existing and required skills of board members and the pool of qualified board members available when electing new board members.

Key Definitions

Local corporate governance codes: Certain local corporate governance codes include guidance on diversity criteria. This can be accepted in this question if both of the following criteria apply:

- The company publicly states in its annual report that it adheres with the local corporate governance code without exception OR clearly states what those exceptions are and that they do not include the diversity factors specifically ticked in the question, and
- The local corporate governance code clearly indicates that the specific criteria ticked in the response are considered for the board nomination process.

Race: In the absence of any internationally agreed definition, race is most often statistically characterized in terms of phenotype and appearance (e.g. skin colors), or with regard to ancestry. This should not be understood as an attempt to trace the definition of race to biological, anthropological or genetic factors but rather to (somewhat artificially) distinguish it from the concept of ethnicity. (OECD, 2018)

Ethnicity: Describes a shared culture: the practices, values, and beliefs that characterize those belonging to a community. This multidimensional concept acts as an umbrella term encompassing language, religion traditions and other (United Nations, 2017). A number of related concepts, including ancestry, citizenship and nationality, may overlap with ethnicity. However, ethnicity is not the same as nationality or citizenship, nor it is a measure of biology or genes. (OECD, 2018)

Nationality: A person's country of origin or citizenship.

Data Requirements

A board diversity policy needs to contain specific requirements for diversity factors being taken into account during the board nomination process. Statements related to non-discrimination between sexes, nationalities, etc. or statements confirming that a company complies with local laws around non-discrimination are not sufficient.

For two-tier board structures, the policy needs to apply to the supervisory board, not only the management board.
