Board Independence

Question

Does the company have an independence statement for the board of directors?

Rationale

An independent director is a member of the company's board of directors that is brought in from outside the organization. Independent directors can bring new insights and balance that improve the performance of a company through their objective view of the company's health and operations. At times, they can also bring specific expertise from their experience as well as provide additional accountability. We assess the extent to which companies have made explicit statements about their definitions of and requirements with respect to board members' independence.

Key Definitions

Independent directors: are non-executive directors that are independent by meeting at least 4 of the 9 criteria (of which at least 2 of the 3 first criteria) listed below:

1. The director must not have been employed by the company in an executive capacity within the last year.
2. The director must not accept or have a "Family Member who accepts any payments from the company or any parent or subsidiary of the company in excess of $60,000 during the current fiscal year", other than those permitted by SEC Rule 4200 Definitions, including i) payments arising solely from investments in the company's securities; or ii) payments under non-discretionary charitable contribution matching programs. Payments that do not meet these two criteria are disallowed.
3. The director must not be a "Family Member of an individual who is [...] employed by the company or by any parent or subsidiary of the company as an executive officer."
4. The director must not be (and must not be affiliated with a company that is) an adviser or consultant to the company or a member of the company's senior management.
5. The director must not be affiliated with a significant customer or supplier of the company.
6. The director must have no personal services contract(s) with the company or be a member of the company's senior management.
7. The director must not be affiliated with a not-for-profit entity that receives significant contributions from the company.
8. The director must not have been a partner or employee of the company's outside auditor during the past year.
9. The director must not have any other conflict of interest that the board itself determines to not be considered independent.

Data Requirements

- Please provide your publicly available independence statement, public reporting on the definition of independence used (i.e., if it is in line with local or international standards corresponding to the definition used by us), and public reporting on the target share of independent directors on the board.
- Please select the stock exchange that you comply with. We do allow you to select an established national or stock exchange Corporate Governance Code as long as this also meets our definition of independence.
- If you are a member of a stock exchange that is not listed or you have stricter requirements, please select what parts of the Board Independence statement your company satisfies. We expect the statement to meet at least 4 out of 9 criteria of which at least 2 of the first 3. If this is not the case, please indicate so.

Specific data requirements for non-listed companies:

Family-owned companies

- All family members who are on the Board of Directors and employed by the company are to be considered as executive directors.
- Family members that are only on the board and that do not have any executive role can be considered as independent directors if they meet at least 4 out of 9 criteria of which at least 2 of the first 3 criteria for independence.

State-owned companies

- A government representative can be considered as "independent" if he/ she meets at least 4 out of 9 criteria of which at least 2 of the first 3 criteria for independence.

Disclosure Requirements

Listed and/or publicly owned companies are required to provide links to public reports or corporate websites.

Non-listed companies are required to provide the following evidence, depending on the type of company:

- Family-owned companies and Privately owned companies are required to provide public reports, corporate websites, or internal documents.
- Cooperatives are required to provide public reports, corporate websites, or internal documents.
- State-owned companies are required to report on their corporate governance in the public domain as their key stakeholder is the general public.
