COVID-19 INITIATIVES
We have established committees to closely monitorthe safety of our associates and the performance, needs and strategies to supply our customers. We havealsoimplemented specific measures in linewith the recommendations of localauthorities to protect against COVID-19.
Some of the initiatives we have implemented are the following:
- The safety of our associates comes first, that's why we have redoubled the efforts to practice social distancing. For those teams, whose role allowsit,and depending on local circumstances, different formatsoflabor flexibility have been implemented, such as remote work, guards or special shifts. We provided additional hygiene steps daily and the right equipment and required temperature checkups at ourfacilities to ensure the safety of our frontline associates.
- We also increased our financialliquidity by drawing US$720 millionfrom our committed

Net sales in Mexico rose 6.2%, driven by good performance in mostcategoriesprimarilybread,sweetbakedgoods,tortillas MEXICO and cookies, as well as most channels, particularly the modern channel.Theseresultswere partially offset by pressure in the foodservice channel such as schools, which were temporarily closed due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

LATIN AMERICA7 Firstquarter net sales grew 3.8% in Latin America mainly due to strong performance in the Latin Centro division and countries such as Brazil, Peru and Paraguay. The bread category throughout the region and the cookies category in the Latin Centro division, as well as FX rate benefit contributed to growth.

Adjusted EBITDA, which includes the effect of IFRS16 for both periods, increased 11.4%, while the margin expanded 50 basispoints due to strong operating performance in every region.

NORTH AMERICA

The slight margin contraction was mainly due to higher administration expenses and the challenges faced by the foodservice customers, which was partiallyoffset by productivity initiatives across the supply chain and by lower restructuring expenses.

MEXICO

In Mexico, the margin expanded 20 basis points, attributable to healthy sales performance, lower raw material costs and lower distribution expenses.

LATIN AMERICA

Latin America adjusted EBITDA margin expanded 190 basis mainly on the back of good sales performance and productivityinitiatives across the distribution network.

EAA

EAA posted a 90 basis points expansion in the margin mostly because of good sales performance, lower raw material costs and distribution expenses, which was partially offset by restructuring investments, which were in part related to a plant closurein Spain.
