Employee Support Programs

Question

Does the company have employee support programs?

Rationale

Employee health and well-being are essential to ensuring employee satisfaction, productivity, and retention. While flexible work arrangements allow employees to adapt their work schedule to their individual needs and personal commitments, paid parental and care leave, as well as childcare facilities and lactation rooms, ensure that employees have the possibility to balance work and care responsibilities. This flexibility and these benefits boost employee morale, increase productivity, reduce absenteeism, and help to attract and retain top talent while reducing turnover. As a result, companies can improve their financial and non-financial performance indicators.

This question assesses the company's programs and policies that aim to foster employee health & well-being. To reward greater flexibility and equality for both caregivers, the question considers the % of parental leave for the non-primary caregiver compared to the total number of weeks provided for the primary caregiver.

Key Definitions

Workplace stress management: This refers to programs, information, or training offered, targeted at helping employees manage their stress levels. This relates to both work and non-work-related stress. Examples of workplace stress management programs include, for example, meditation classes and other wellness programs or education that aim to help employees reduce stress, and improve mental wellbeing in the workplace.

Sport & health initiatives: This refers to programs or initiatives that help promote the overall health of employees involving physical activity and/or nutrition goals. Such programs could include onsite fitness facilities, virtual exercise classes, fitness tracking and biometrics, or gym reimbursement.

Flexible working hours: This refers to a schedule which allows employees to decide when to start and/or finish their workday according to their individual needs. Flexible working hours may give the employee total freedom over their working schedule or may require employee presence for a core set of hours in the day/week and manage the rest of their working hours as best suits them.

Working-from-home arrangements: This refers to a working arrangement by which employees can work from their own homes or other locations of their choice outside of the company facilities.

Part-time work: Part-time work is a form of employment by which the employee works fewer hours in the week than what is deemed full-time employment.

Childcare facilities: This refers to on-site childcare centers or services which allow parents to drop off their children to qualified caregivers during their working hours.

Childcare contributions: This refers to the financial support provided to parents specifically designed to ensure that they have access to qualified childcare services to take care of their children during working hours.

Breast-feeding/lactation facilities: This refers to a dedicated lactation room or facility so that new mothers can breastfeed or breast-pump for their newborn child. This space should be located at the workplace and offer privacy, comfort, storage, and hygiene.

Breast-feeding/lactation benefits: This refers to benefits provided to new mothers to ensure they have the capacity and support to allow them to breastfeed or breast-pump for their newborn child at work. These benefits include, but are not limited to, paid break times for feeding or pumping (15-20 minutes every 2-3 hours depending on individual needs), subsidies for the purchase of portable breast-feeding or breast-pumping equipment.

Paid parental leave for the primary caregiver: This refers to paid leave which is offered on top of normal paid vacation time in order to specifically support primary caregivers during pregnancy, after birth or for the adoption or fostering of a child. This paid leave is separate from other types of leave such as sick leave or paid time off. The primary caregiver is the person primarily responsible for the care and upbringing of a child.

Paid parental leave for the non-primary caregiver: This refers to paid leave which is offered on top of normal paid vacation time in order to specifically support non-primary caregivers during pregnancy, after birth or for the adoption or fostering of a child. This paid leave is separate from other types of leave such as sick leave or paid time off. A non-primary caregiver is a person with parental responsibility for a child that does not have primary responsibility for the care and upbringing of the child.

Paid family or care leave beyond parental leave: This refers to paid leave granted to the employee in order to take care of a spouse, domestic partner, child, dependent, parent, parent-in-law, grandparent, grandchild, sibling or other designated relation when this person has a physical or mental health condition which requires additional care. This is separate from paid parental leave which is granted to parents who have a new child.
