Sustainability Reporting Assurance

Question

Does the company have external assurance for its sustainability reporting?

Rationale

As with financial data, assurance of environmental and social data ensures that it is more reliable and increases the likelihood that investors will use this data in their analysis and investment decisions. Transparency about the assurance process and the data assured also increases stakeholders' trust in published information.

The purpose of this question is to assess the extent to which companies disclose details related to their environmental and social assurance.

Key Definitions

Assurance specialists: This group includes accountants, certification bodies, and specialist consultancies. It does not include an independent advisory boards, stakeholder panels or high-level individuals (e.g., environmental ministers).

Declaration of independence: An explicit statement of independence from the auditor confirming there is no other commercial link to the company's operations or business that could result in a conflict of interest.

Recognized international or national standard: This refers to assurance standards and not reporting standards (such as GRI guidelines). Examples of these assurance standards are AA1000AS and ISAE 3000, but regional or local standards are also acceptable if they are clearly specified and are comparable to international standards.

Examples include:

- Standard DR03422 (Australia/New Zealand)
- Assurance Engagements of Sustainability Reports (Germany)
- Environmental Report Assurance Services Guidelines by the JICPA (Japan)
- FAR auditing standard RevR6 (Sweden)
- Standard 3810 Assurance Engagements related to Sustainability Reports (the Netherlands)
- AT-C Section 105 and 210 (US/Canada)

Scope of assurance: If the scope of assurance covers some (but not all) environmental indicators, these need to be clearly marked in the relevant sections of the report. If the assurance statement covers all data items in the report, this also needs to be explicitly stated.

Conclusion/level of assurance: This refers to the conclusion of the assurance process which is according to the level of assurance, i.e., "limited/moderate" or "reasonable assurance". The level of assurance indicates the extent and depth of the work the assurance provider undertakes in relation to sustainability disclosures. Most assurance providers offer two levels: "limited" assurance (i.e., moderate) or reasonable assurance (i.e., high but still involving some risk of inappropriate conclusion) (GRI 2013).

Data Requirements

AA1000AS (2008): Type 1 – Type 1 cannot be used to accept the social and environment scope parts of this question, nor the third-party verification of KPI questions across the CSA as it does not verify the accuracy of a specific sustainability data. However, Type 1 can still be used to accept the 'assurance statement' part of this question and, if relevant information was provided, the "declaration of independence" and "conclusion" parts as well.

Not acceptable:

- The assurance of GHG emissions is not accepted for this question as we are looking for an assurance statement or verification of a company's sustainability disclosure.
- Assurance statement based on GRI guidelines are not accepted as these are meant to be used as reporting guidelines, not an assurance standard.
- FAR auditing standard RevR 12 The auditor's statement on the statutory sustainability report is not accepted as this only verifies the existence of a report and not its content.

- BBBEE certification

Disclosure Requirements

This question requires supporting evidence from the public domain. The information provided has to be included in your public reporting (e.g., annual report, sustainability report, integrated report, company publications, separate fuel efficiency strategy document) or corporate website.
