CORPORATE FOODS LIMITED

ANNUAL INFORMATION FORM

DECEMBER 28, 1996

MARCH 6, 1997

ITEM 1: INCORPORATION

Corporate Foods Limited ("Corporate Foods" or the "Company"), a subsidiary of Maple Leaf Foods Inc. ("Maple Leaf Foods"), was originally incorporated pursuant to the laws of the Province of Ontario on June 9, 1911, under the name Canada Bread Company, Limited. The name was subsequently changed to Corporate Foods Limited on October 15, 1969. The Company amalgamated with Central Bakery of Toronto Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary, on December 31, 1989, with the amalgamated Corporation continuing under the name "Corporate Foods Limited". Unless the context requires otherwise, the term "Company" or "Corporate Foods" herein refers to Corporate Foods Limited and its principal subsidiaries listed below.

Subsidiary	Jurisdiction of Incorporation	Ownership Percentage (Voting)
McGavin Foods Limited	British Columbia	100%
Dough Delight Limited	Ontario	100%
Eastern Bakeries Limited	New Brunswick	100%
Olivieri Foods Limited	British Columbia	100%
Brooklyn Bagel Boys, Inc.	Illinois	100%

ITEM 2: GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

Corporate Foods and its subsidiaries manufacture value-added flour based food products. Its product lines are comprised largely of fresh and frozen bakery products and specialty pasta and sauces. Corporate Foods has diversified its business through the acquisition of, or investment in, other companies producing products complementary to its major product lines.

In December 1992, the Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of McGavin Foods Limited ("McGavin Foods") from Maple Leaf Foods.

Since 1983, Corporate Foods has held a 49% equity interest in Dough Delight Ltd. ("Dough Delight") of Concord, Ontario. In June 1993, the Company purchased the remaining 51% of Dough Delight's issued and outstanding shares. On December 31, 1995, Dough Delight was amalgamated with Circlet Foods. The amalgamated company continues under the name Dough Delight Ltd.

In October 1993, Corporate Foods purchased the assets of Brooklyn Bagel Boys, Inc. ("Brooklyn Bagel Boys") located in Chicago, Illinois. The purchase price was, in part, contingent on future earnings. An additional payment was made in 1997. On January 2, 1997, the Company sold all of the issued and outstanding shares of Brooklyn Bagel Boys to Maple Leaf Foods.

In October 1995, Corporate Foods acquired the assets and goodwill of Maple Leaf's Tenderflake Division. The Tenderflake Division manufactured frozen pie, tart and pastry shells for the retail market. These products are retailed under the brand name "Tenderflake". The assets and goodwill were transferred to Dough Delight who are continuing to expand the "Tenderflake" product line.

In April, 1996, the Company acquired the net assets of Bella Pasta Inc., specialty pasta company, located in Stoney Creek, Ontario ("Bella Pasta").

In May, 1996, the Company acquired the net assets of Venice Bakery Ltd., a manufacturer of hearth and french bread and rolls, located in Vancouver, British Columbia ("Venice Bakery").

In November, 1996, the Company acquired the net assets of West Coast Bakery Limited, located in Cornerbrook, Newfoundland.

Corporate Foods also owns a 25% equity interest in Multi-Marques Inc. ("Multi-Marques") of Montréal, Québec.

The Company's 1996 results of operations and financial condition are presented in the Operation and Financial Review section of the 1996 Annual Report.

ITEM 3: BUSINESS

Corporate Foods is a major manufacturer of flour based food products. Diversification within the manufacture of flour based products has been achieved by producing and offering to the market, fresh baked bread and roll products, frozen unbaked and baked dough products and specialty pasta and sauces.

The Company is Canada's only national baker of fresh bread and rolls with facilities coast to coast. These fresh bakery products are manufactured and distributed by Corporate Foods' wholly owned subsidiaries, McGavin Foods and Eastern Bakeries in Western and Atlantic Canada, respectively, and by the Company's Dempster's division which operates primarily in the Ontario market.

Dough Delight manufactures and distributes frozen unbaked and baked dough products across Canada and the United States. Brooklyn Bagel Boys, operating out of Chicago, produces and sells primarily frozen bagel products throughout the continental United States.

Olivieri Foods Limited ("Olivieri") is the leading producer in Canada, and the third largest in North America, of fresh, flat and filled pasta and sauces. These products are currently sold in Western Canada, Ontario, Québec and the Western U.S.

Branded fresh bakery products are distributed and sold across Canada to major grocery chains, retail outlets and the food service industry. The Company's owned and licensed brand names are important to the selling and marketing of these products. Corporate Foods also manufactures and distributes fresh private label bakery products to major grocery store chains and fast food outlets.

Key branded products include: McGavin's and Homestead used by McGavin Foods in Western Canada; Dempster's, Toastmaster, Bamby and Sunshine in Ontario; and Butternut, Karnes, and Holsum used by Eastern Bakeries in Atlantic Canada and the northeastern portion of the province of Québec. The Dempster's brand is a market leader in the sale of premium whole wheat and variety breads.

The Company also sells fresh bread and rolls under brand names which are licensed including; Olivieri, Sun•Maid, Arnold, Brownberry and Hollywood. Although the products manufactured under license do not represent a major portion of Corporate Foods' sales, they do enhance and broaden the Company's general product lines.

In the fresh bakery market, Corporate Foods competes with other wholesale bakeries and with supermarket chains that have in-store bakeries or private label products. The Company is competitive on the basis of product development, product quality, brand loyalty, effective promotional activities, the ability to identify and satisfy emerging customer preferences and customer service demands. Providing the highest standard in customer service is the driving factor for obtaining the premium retail "shelf space" among the bread product distributors.

In Western Canada the principal competitors of McGavin Foods are supermarket in-store bakeries, Weston Bakeries Limited ("Weston Bakeries") and Lucerne Foods Ltd. which is owned by Canada Safeway Ltd. Several U.S. bakeries also compete in the Vancouver and southwest British Columbia market.

In the Ontario market, the principal competitors of the Company's Dempster's division are supermarket in-store bakeries, a multitude of small to medium sized independent bakeries, Weston Bakeries and Jane Parker Bakery Limited ("Jane Parker"). Competition from Jane Parker is restricted to A&P, New Dominion and Miracle Food Mart stores, all of which are controlled by The Great Atlantic and Pacific Company of Canada Limited ("A&P"). Weston Bakeries has a large captive market in its affiliated Loblaws group of companies. Corporate Foods is the only major independent, non-aligned baker which markets its products through all retail outlets, including the Loblaws and A&P groups of stores.

The three major wholesale bakeries in Atlantic Canada are Eastern Bakeries, Ben's Limited and Multi-Marques Inc. Eastern Bakeries is the largest bakery in that region. These bakeries face significant competition in Atlantic Canada from in-store bakeries and numerous smaller independent bakeries.

Most products sold by the fresh bakeries have an extremely short shelf life and, therefore, effective product distribution is an important element in ensuring high customer satisfaction. It is necessary to locate manufacturing facilities and distribution centres as close as practicable to the market area being served. The Company has designed its distribution and routing systems to ensure that fresh products are delivered on a timely and cost efficient basis.

McGavin Foods' products are sold in Western Canada principally through its own distribution network. A number of company-owned routes have been converted to independent distributors that are responsible for ordering, distributing and servicing their accounts, and purchasing products from McGavin Foods for resale to their customers. McGavin Foods operates retail thrift stores for the recovery of returned products.

Management believes that its Dempster's division in Ontario has the broadest distribution of variety breads and rolls of any bakery in the province. A fleet of tractor trailers transports fresh bakery products from Dempster's manufacturing facilities to its distribution centres. These products are sold through independent franchised dealers who operate from the distribution centres. A small number of Company routes serve food service customers. In addition, the division operates a thrift location for the recovery of returned products.

In Atlantic Canada, Eastern Bakeries sells almost all of its products through its own distribution network. Distribution centres are located in each of the Eastern Bakeries' plants in addition to distribution centres located in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and Québec. Products are transported from plant locations to the distribution centres by independent contract carriers. Eastern Bakeries also utilizes a small number of independent distributors.

Corporate Foods' frozen bakery products are manufactured and sold through its 100% owned subsidiary, Dough Delight.

Dough Delight manufactures and distributes a variety of frozen unbaked and baked dough products to in-store bakeries, restaurants and institutional accounts throughout Canada and the United States. Approximately one third of Dough Delight's total sales are made to customers in the United States. Products manufactured by Dough Delight include bagels, flatbreads (e.g. pizza shells), croissants, muffins, danish pastries, coffee cakes, pita breads, frozen pie shells and frozen crusty bread and rolls. These products are primarily sold to major grocery chains and retail outlets under private label brands and for sale through in-store bakeries. Products under the Dough Delight name are sold to institutional and food service accounts. Brand names owned by Dough Delight include Platina, Toronto Bagel, Jerusalem Pita, Tenderflake, Rachel's and Olivieri (which is licensed from Olivieri Foods Limited). Dough Delight employs a sales force and uses a comprehensive network of brokers and distributors to sell its products. Effective January 1, 1996, Dough Delight's U.S. operations and the sales and marketing of its products in the U.S. were managed by Maple Leaf USA Inc. ("Maple Leaf USA"). Dough Delight will benefit from Maple Leaf USA's focus on its U.S. business.

Corporate Foods competes in its frozen bakery products markets with other wholesale bakeries such as Rich Products Corporation, Ready Bake (owned by Weston Bakeries), Pro Pastry (owned by H.J. Heinz Co.), Sara Lee Corporation, Pillsbury, Kraft General Foods Inc.'s subsidiary Lenders, and CPC International Inc.'s subsidiaries (including Boboli, and Entenmann's). The Company competes on the basis of new product development and the ability to identify and satisfy emerging customer preferences, product quality and product value.

The Company's fresh and frozen pasta and pasta sauces are manufactured and distributed to major grocery chains, retail outlets and the food service industry through its wholly owned subsidiary, Olivieri. Olivieri manufactures and distributes flat and filled pasta and sauce products under the Olivieri brand name across Canada. In addition, Olivieri manufactures private label pasta and sauce products, principally for sales into the United States.

Olivieri's main competitors are a number of small regional manufacturers in Canada and Kraft General Foods Inc. and Nestlé Enterprises Ltd. in the United States market. Olivieri competes on the basis of the development of innovative, unique, upscale products, high product quality, effective promotional activities and ongoing investment in increased state-of-the-art production facilities.

INVESTMENTS IN OTHER COMPANIES

Corporate Foods has a 25% equity interest in Multi-Marques Inc. of Montréal, Québec. Multi-Marques, with sales of approximately $250 million, is the largest bakery in Québec. It operates numerous manufacturing facilities and distribution centres in Québec and distributes its products throughout the province and into part of New Brunswick. In September 1994, Multi-Marques purchased an equity interest in Ben's Limited. In 1995, it increased this interest such that it presently owns a majority of Ben's Limited. Accordingly, Multi-Marques has substantially increased its participation in the Maritime fresh bakery market.

Corporate Foods acquired its initial interest in Multi-Marques in 1971. Existing and former senior management of Multi-Marques own a majority of the 75% interest not owned by Corporate Foods.

In addition to the distribution centres located throughout Canada, many of which are leased, the Company leases 24,000 square feet for its corporate offices in Etobicoke, Ontario.

RAW MATERIALS

The Company purchases a variety of ingredients and packaging materials, the major ingredients being flour, yeast, vegetable shortening and sugar. The Corporation was party to an agreement to purchase the bulk of its flour and bakery mix requirements from Maple Leaf Mills Inc. at competitive prices. Maple Leaf Mills Inc. is equally owned by Maple Leaf Foods and ConAgra Inc. Concurrent with the closing of the sale of the net assets of Maple Leaf Mills Inc. to ADM Agri-Industries Ltd. on February 28, 1997, this agreement was terminated. The raw materials required for its manufacturing operations have been readily available and the Company does not foresee any shortages.

The cost of flour, which represents a major component of the Company's raw material costs, is directly impacted by wheat prices and quality, which remain volatile. The Company manages exposure to fluctuating flour prices through the use of forward purchase contracts.

INFLATION AND SEASONALITY

The Company operates primarily in Canada where inflation has been relatively low and its overall impact on the business is not considered to be material. The business as a whole does not tend to be seasonal except for sales of rolls which increase significantly from May to September each year. The first quarter of the year is a slower period for the food business generally.

ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

Environmental responsibilities, which extend to the Company's plant operations, the use of packaging for its products and the health of consumers, are considered a high priority by Corporate Foods. The Company has adopted an environmental stewardship program under which specific senior executives take responsibility for all environmental matters within the Company. These executives work together to ensure that Corporate Foods is in compliance, in all material respects, with existing environmental regulations. Reports regarding all environmental issues or matters which have arisen are provided to the Board of Directors for discussion and evaluation on a regular basis. Expenditures relating to current environmental standards are not expected to have a material impact on the financial position or earnings of the Company.

EMPLOYEES

At December 28, 1996, the Company employed approximately 3,400 full-time people, 2,000 of whom are covered by collective agreements. Management considers that it has good relations with its work force.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In August 1995, the Company entered into a Management and Affiliation Agreement with Maple Leaf Foods whereby the Company benefits from certain services provided by Maple Leaf Foods. The cost of this service in 1996 was $1.9 million.

At the end of 1995, the company also entered into a Management Services Agreement with Maple Leaf Foods USA, whereby Maple Leaf Foods USA will have direct responsibility for the management of the Company's U.S. sales and operations. Fees for this service, aside from direct expenses incurred in generating business for the Company, are included in the Management and Affiliation Agreement discussed above.

In October 1995, the Company acquired the assets and goodwill of Maple Leaf Foods' Tenderflake Division for cash and shares as disclosed in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

On January 2, 1997 the Company sold all of the issued and outstanding shares of Brooklyn Bagel Boys to Maple Leaf Foods as disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements. All of the above transactions were reviewed and approved by a committee composed of independent members of the Board of Directors.

ITEM 4: SELECTED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL DATA

On December 26, 1992, its 1992 fiscal year end, the Company completed the purchase of McGavin Foods. The McGavin Foods acquisition has been accounted for using the purchase method and accordingly the McGavin Foods balance sheet was consolidated in 1992 but its results of operations were not. The results of operations of McGavin Foods have been consolidated beginning in fiscal 1993. Similarly, the balance sheets and results of operations for Circlet, Dough Delight and Brooklyn Bagel Boys have been consolidated subsequent to the Company increasing its ownership to 60% of Circlet, February 20, 1993; 100% of Dough Delight, June 25, 1993 and the Company's acquisition of Brooklyn Bagel Boys October 15, 1993. Circlet Foods is fully consolidated subsequent to the Company's increase in ownership to 100% August 25, 1995. The following selected consolidated financial data of the Company for 1992 to 1996 is derived from the audited consolidated financial statements of the Company.
